

Supervisors Eye Fund-Raising Drainage District

Need Way to Pay
For Cleaning
Drainage Ditches

The County Board of Supervisors may authorize the formation of a county-wide "drainage district" to raise funds to work on drainage ditches, such as the troublesome ditch running through the Brookside area.

Speculation as to such action came up last week at a special meeting of the supervisors.

The board at that meeting considered a plea made in December by David K. Speer, county surveyor and road commissioner. He urged the board to formulate a policy on accepting easements offered by property owners—pointing out that under the law the county cannot step in and assist property owners by cleaning out a drainage ditch once and then "abandoning it."

He said that if the county cleans out a ditch, that ditch may become the permanent responsibility of the county. And he urged the supervisors to decide whether general funds should be used for the work.

Speer also warned that as drainage ditches lie clogged with dirt and trash they pose a flooding threat to private property.

"It is felt," Speer's December report declared, "that the maintenance of these drainage ditches is a normally accepted responsibility of some appropriate public agency. However, this department is extremely reluctant to accept these drainage easements until such time as provision has been made for the use of funds other than gas tax funds, which by statutory law are prohibited from being used for maintenance purposes outside the county maintained road right of way."

Speer's report concluded: "Without doubt, this current practice may ultimately result in serious damage to some properties due to inevitable storm drain failure."

Vista La Mesa Little League Still Operating

The Vista La Mesa Little League is still in business, despite a County Planning Commission decision to kick them out of the former baseball park.

At a special board meeting of the league last Friday, a committee was appointed to investigate the use of nearby school grounds or vacant lots for the kids to play ball on.

Mrs. Clare Kruse, official of the league, said that registration "is still going on at the Vista La Mesa School field. Try-outs for team positions will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday and next Saturday, she said.

At the same time, one Vista La Mesa man who had appeared at a planning commission hearing earlier said that she wants to make it clear that she isn't objecting to the Little League using the county park.

Mrs. Anna Rheinhold said that her only protest was that with no good fence around the park, unsupervised small children wander onto her property where she keeps horses.

"It isn't the Little League that I object to," she said. "It's just that I'm afraid that other children might play there and get hurt. A good fence would help keep them out of danger."

C.C. To Honor Past President

Past President Bill Parker will be honored at a dinner dance by the Lemon Grove chamber of commerce Saturday April 9, it was announced this week by Larry Folda, present president.

Parker is being transferred from the Lemon Grove area.

The affair will be held at the Lemon Grove Bowl at 7:30 p.m. preceded by a no-host cocktail party, Folda said.

A brief program will follow the steak dinner, followed by dancing to Despie's combo.

Tickets are available at the chamber of commerce office at 7350 Broadway.

STREET PROJECT — A crew from the San Diego Gas and Electric Co. has been installing new gas line along Broadway. Officials said that the old line would be good for another four of five years, but to avoid having to tear up the street again after the scheduled improvement, the company is replacing the line now. Improvement project is expected to get underway in May.

Judge Garfield Files Bid for Superior Court

El Cajon Municipal Judge R. Fenton Garfield, popular legal and civic figure of the east county area, has filed as a candidate for judgeship of the Superior Court.

Judge Garfield, 49, will oppose an incumbent, Edgar B. Hervey, 61, of San Diego. Judge Hervey is the brother-in-law of Frank Armstrong, an attorney who lives on Golden ave. in Lemon Grove.

Garfield will not need to resign from the El Cajon Municipal Court bench to seek election. He becomes the first contestant for a superior court post in 12 years, political observers say.

Both men are registered Republicans. Hervey was the last judicial appointee named by Governor Goodwin Knight in 1958. He now presides over a criminal department of the Superior Court.

Judges must file as a candidate for a specific department as Garfield did for Hervey's Department 5. They may not run for an office at large.

Garfield was graduated from Grossmont High School, took a degree at San Diego State and his law degree from the University of Southern California. He practiced law in Los Angeles from 1935 to 1940 and served as a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1941 to 1945. In 1945 he returned to La Mesa to practice law.

He was appointed La Mesa city judge in 1949. In 1952 when the El Cajon Judicial District was formed he was elected the new district's first judge by defeating two opponents. Recently, he was designated Grossmont's "outstanding student of all time."

Judge Garfield, long a champion for professional conduct and high ethics in the legal profession and the judiciary, fought vigorously to prevent the Homeland Judicial District from becoming consolidated with the San Diego Municipal Court District in 1957.

"People in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley need a court more than the people in San Diego," he said at the time. He was successful in averting the consolidation but San Diego solved its judicial problems by running a corridor to the home of Judge Luther N. Hussey's home on San Miguel st., in Lemon Grove, so that he could stand for election to the office he had been promoted to as a step in the attempted consolidation.

Hussey later ran for office and defeated Howard A. Muhleman, who practices law in Lemon Grove, and Frank Arm-

San Diegan Offers 'Better Water Supply'

Paul Beerman, director of operations for the City of San Diego, last week offered Lemon Grove residents better water and more of it if the area should annex to San Diego.

Beerman, addressing the Lemon Grove Men's Club, insisted that the City of San Diego "does not hunt for annexations" but considers areas for annexation only when the people ask to become part of the city. He said also that he was not functioning as "an annexation salesman" in making his appearance before the club.

The San Diegan said that the advantages of the area annexing to San Diego and also becoming a part of its water system include filtered water and larger water mains, automatically assuring better fire protection. He added that Helix Irrigation District, now serving the area, is planning a filtration plant that would cancel the "better water" advantage.

And he pointed out that if Lemon Grove were to annex to San Diego the city would not automatically take over the water system but would have to negotiate with the Helix district.

Pool Builder Dies on Job

An El Cajon construction worker died early this week when he fell from an eight-foot scaffold into a dry Lemon Grove swimming pool which he was building.

The worker, Anson L. Spaggiari, 48, was dead when police arrived. Deputy Coroner William Stevens said that Spaggiari may have died of heart attack.

He was spraying concrete onto the wall of a partially completed pool when he dropped the hose, doubled up and fell. Relatives reportedly told Stevens that Spaggiari had complained recently of pains, indicating a heart ailment.

Rattlesnakes Ahead of Season

Construction work in subdivisions in south Spring Valley apparently have stirred rattlesnakes out of their lairs several months early.

Hikers in the Sweetwater Lake and Otay areas this week reported killing a three and a half foot rattler and seeing several others in the past few days.

The snakes normally do not appear until the hot days of summer.

Young Scientists
To Compete Later
In San Diego Event

A 15-year-old Mt. Miguel high school sophomore won the sweepstakes award Saturday in his school's annual science fair with a collection of 300 butterflies.

He is Robert Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Watkins of 9526 Montemar Dr., Spring Valley. He is an Honor student at the high school.

Young Watkins commented that he is trying to find the causes of seasonal variations, "a gap in the knowledge that we now possess."

He continued: "My project is classified by genus and species and contains over 300 mounted specimens with approximately 100 species represented. It has taken me more than two years to assemble my collection. Often I have traded specimens with other collectors whose interests parallel or diverge from mine. I titled it 'Butterflies and Their Distribution.'"

Other winners in the biological sciences were: Sherry Netzeley, first place with "Does Smoking Neutralize Vitamin C in the Body?"; Margaret Dudley, second place with "Reversible Photoreaction"; and Glenda Arnold, third place with "Penicillin—Is It Overused?"

In the physical sciences, Bill Hall took second place with "Use of Ozone in Carbon-Monoxide Poisoning"; Carl Kalil and

by MAX GOODWIN

We had no sooner overcome our alarm concerning the formation of a huge, unified elementary school district (this being a diversifier to bog down the formation of a junior college district within the boundaries of our high school district) than unification pops up again. This time the threat is very real and very large.

Assembly Bill No. 1538 was passed without fanfare at the 1959 Assembly and it proposes to consolidate 1,611 of the present 1,721 small school districts in California. Both the Lemon Grove and the La Mesa-Spring Valley school districts would be merged under the Bill.

The Bill, according to the California Small School Districts Association, a group set up to preserve the integrity and the boundaries of small, well-run districts, was passed so quietly that hardly anyone realized how insidious it is. It is now part of the State Education Code. CSSDA claims the Bill's intent is to have every grade from one to twelve merged into a statewide district. Additionally, your district could be voted out of existence by voters outside the district and community control would be lost forever, the group says.

Under the new arrangements, a board of trustees from elsewhere, perhaps as far away as Sacramento, would decide when our children go to school, where, and what sort of a school, what kind of teachers and how much they will be paid.

CSSDA says this may result in overcrowded classes, underpaid personnel, a mediocre program and higher school taxes. Recommended: Ask your PTA for guidance and support the position it takes in this vital matter.

Why can't they pass a law against pornographic material? This is asked frequently by many persons who believe that printed filth can be stopped by legislation.

By an odd quirk of democracy, purveyors of obscenity can hide behind the protection of the first Amendment to the U.S. Constitution . . . the same rules that permit you to go to the church of your choice, worship God in the manner you choose, to speak your mind and to attend meetings with your fellow citizens.

The first amendment says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free

Mile-Long Street Project Nears Construction Date

East Broadway
Project Seen
A Year in Future

The County Board of Supervisors next week will advertise for bids on the improvement of Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The street will be reconstructed from the intersection with College avenue at the freeway, east to the intersection of Broadway at Olive. The length of the project is just a few yards short of one mile.

Plans approved by the supervisors call for the street to appear roughly the same as Imperial avenue now does—with center islands that taper into "left turn storage pockets" at intersections.

The "new" street will have traffic signals at Massachusetts, West and Buena Vista, with a warning beacon at Olive, where the project ends.

A second phase of the project is proposed for improving Broadway east from Olive, across the railroad tracks, to Kempf street. This phase is not anticipated for another year.

The supervisors will open bids on the College-to-Olive project on April 4. It is expected that construction will get under way by May 15 if supervisors find the bids to be satisfactory.

The project will include an estimated 18,000 cubic yards of excavation; importing of 18,000 cubic yards of base material; installation of 30,000 square feet of concrete driveways and sidewalks; installation of more than 2,000 feet of storm drains and 1,000 feet of culverts.

The new street will have a right of way of 100 feet, with an 82-foot roadway including the 18-foot center strip. The improvement will end at the west curb line of Olive. From there, Broadway will drop abruptly to its present two-lane width.

County road department officials said that nothing can be done by the county about plans for improving Broadway east of Olive until property owners there "either come to life and deed the necessary property for the improvement, or the existing Road Improvement District legally dies."

San Diego Gas and Electric Co. crews were working on Broadway west of Olive last week to install new gas lines. Officials said that the gas lines already there would be good for another four or five years but that the company decided to replace them now to avoid tearing up the new street later.

Boys Injured When Go-Cart Hits Truck

Howard E. (Gene) Butler, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. True J. Butler, 9255 Olive Dr., Spring Valley, is in Grossmont hospital with a fractured skull, due to an accident Sunday afternoon.

Young Butler and a playmate, Billy Fritz, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Fritz, 3307 Helix St., Spring Valley, were riding on a motorized go-cart on a vacant lot at the east end of Olive Drive. Young Butler was driving, according to a report.

The go-cart scooted out from the front of an oncoming pickup truck, driven by Howard Takahashi of 9360 Olive. Takahashi said he heard the go-cart motor, but didn't see it or the boys until they were in front of the truck. Billy Fritz sustained a cut eye and scratches.

FUTURE WATER—Workmen tunnel under Freeway 94 in the Brookside area for the second San Diego aqueduct which will more than double the water supply capacity for the county. At present, the County Water Authority can import 140,000 acre feet annually. Second aqueduct will carry an additional 180,000 acre feet.

OLD FAITHFUL!!

EVERS

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

If I had the time, and the talent, I would write a book about an apartment house in which we once lived.

It was in one of our less moneyed days that we lived in this building. We were going to move to another town, but we lacked the money and we finally hit upon a solution: Paula would take Katy and they would go visit her mother for a while.

I would move into the small apartment, save my money, and pick them up later as we headed for the new town, the new job and the new future.

As it turned out, I rented the apartment and we moved our things into it—but somehow at the last minute we decided to stick it out together and so we all set up house-keeping in the apartment.

It was a converted attic in an old apartment building. It had alcoves and corners, sloping ceiling walls, a steep stairway from the hall below, windows overlooking one of the noisiest corners in town, and a bathroom shared with an elderly couple in the other half of the attic.

We came to love that shabby apartment, and the people who shared the house with us.

There was the elderly couple, retired, who spent most of their days on the high porch, looking across the street and across the town. He had been a caretaker at a cemetery, always a job with small pay. And he had carefully saved the ribbons from the bouquets of flowers when they wilted, and he had brought home these gay ribbons to his wife.

They were a small substitute for luxury, but they were a gift of love.

And when the lady became acquainted with Katy and her tiny-girl ways, she wanted to give this little girl something. So she shared her only beautiful possession with her; she gave Katy a tremendous bundle of ribbons, and Katy used them to dress her dolls.

There was the young, amazingly ignorant bride in the apartment downstairs. Her equally ignorant husband used to beat her every night, just for nothing. In the morning, she would bring her bruised face to our apartment for a cup of coffee and a sympathetic word.

The other pugilistic couple lived below us on the second floor. We'd awaken in the night to hear the blows and the muffled screams. And in the morning she'd have a new black eye or a bruise, but the next evening they'd ask Paula to babysit their Pekinese dog while they went across to the bar. They'd come back, singing, to get the dog when the bar closed.

And down below, on the first floor, there was the fat lady with the farm voice and the big husband. They took care of a nephew about Katy's age. The two kids would play together on the sidewalk or in the tiny patch of dirt that served as a yard.

The husband was a simple man, and he had one priceless possession: a tiny transistor radio that fit in his shirt pocket. It had two ear phones, tiny ones like the ones in a hearing aid. He'd sit on the porch, drinking beer from a can and smiling at the radio programs that only he could hear.

But he was generous. It you showed an interest, he'd offer you an ear-plug and you could huddle up close and listen too.

And there was the old man that we never saw. But we could hear him, rocking in his rocking chair next to the six-foot-square well that ran down the center of the building. The bathroom windows opened onto this well, and the kitchen windows.

By leaving your kitchen window open, you could hear sounds from all the apartments: dinners cooking, wives scolding husbands, husbands scolding wives, tiny children squalling because they'd been set in the bathroom and had been forgotten, all the life of the apartment building.

It was earthy and it was alive, alive with simple people doing simple things.

And when we left, the people put out their hands to us. "We sure have been proud to know you," the fat lady said with surprising eloquence, "and we wish you success wherever you go."

It was a speech to touch the heart, and the memory of it stirs something in me whenever I think of it.

Yes, if I had the time, and the talent, I'd write a book about that apartment house—and the people in it.

Dr. Wernher von Braun: 'I Aim at the Stars'

Columbia Pictures Corporation recently sent me a fascinating informational brochure on the USA's most distinguished rocket expert, Dr. Wernher von Braun.

Being personally interested in Dr. Braun's current projects and past accomplishments I would like to repeat a portion of their booklet:

"One of the most intriguing question that has ever confronted a motion picture producer led to Charles H. Schneer's decision to undertake to film 'I Aim at the Stars,' the life story of Wernher von Braun. The question he had determined to probe deeply and thoroughly was: How and why was it possible for a man who was known to have been a key scientist for the German Army during

Vacation of Street Okayed in La Presa

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Vacation of a unnamed county street in the La Presa area has been approved by the County Planning Commission.

David H. R. Fain asked the county to give up a street between lots 14 and 19 in a part of the Jamacha Ranch subdivision. The vacation was voted, providing the County Water Authority also approves. In addition, the approval will not become effective until the final subdivision map for the Laurann subdivision is filed with the County Board of Supervisors.

LAW IN ACTION

TWICE IN JEOPARDY

Recently a court convicted a man charged with both grand and petty theft. Of the two charges it found him guilty only of petty theft. When the district attorney wanted to try him again for the grand theft charge, the California Supreme Court held that the petty theft verdict implied acquittal on the grand theft charge.

For both federal and state constitutions say that no one shall be twice put in jeopardy for the same "offense." But by a single "act" a person may commit several separate offenses. He may break into a house (one offense), rob the owner (another offense), or kill him (still another offense). He could face separate charges for three offenses—burglary, robbery, and murder—growing out of the same event.

The U. S. Supreme Court also recently upheld the right of both state and federal courts separately to try a person for offenses growing out of the same act (a bank robbery in the Midwest).

Even so, California courts would not try such a person if another state, the United States, or a foreign court had already tried him.

Courts seek to try the accused on all counts at once, but can not always do so.

But what of an "included offense"? For example, no one can commit mayhem without also committing assault. No court convicting one of assault could later try him for mayhem on the same event.

A person is put in jeopardy when he goes "on trial" (after the court has sworn in the jury). No court can try him again for the same offense after the court dismisses, acquits, or convicts him.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Questions and Answers Listed on Coordinating Council Make-Up

Members of the public relations committee of the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council have requested this newspaper to publish a series of questions and answers concerning make-up and operation of such a group.

The committee is headed by Mrs. James Martin. The president of the Coordinating Council is the Rev. Mr. E. Walter Smith. The group meets on the third Monday of the month at the junior high school cafeteria.

Q. WHAT IS A COORDINATING COUNCIL?

A. It is a voluntary association of groups and individuals within an area meeting to improve community living. A broad cross-section of community interests is brought together for united community action on problems of common concern.

Q. HOW DOES IT BENEFIT A COMMUNITY?

A. It coordinates the efforts of those who would contribute time and energy to community projects and provides the medium necessary for those who would join forces toward this end.

It promotes cooperation among groups by way of a "community council" where information can be disseminated and opinions can be voiced. It enables an entire area to coordinate its effort in solving problems and provides machinery for implementing this determination.

New Health Center To Serve East Area

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will now be served by the San Diego Department of Public Health in the new East San Diego Health Center located at 52nd and University Ave. The building opened its doors to the public last week and will remain open Mondays through Fridays from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The telephone number of the new health center is JUniper 2-6433. The East San Diego Health Center is one of two new health centers that opened this week. Its twin building, the North San Diego Health Center, also opened last Monday at 2440 Grand Ave. in Pacific Beach. The new buildings bring the district health centers in San Diego County to a total of seven in addition to the primary health center at Civic Center. The headquarters building and five other health centers were dedicated to the people by the Board of Supervisors in 1958.

Dr. J. E. Askew, director of public health, said that the new East San Diego Health Center will enable the Department of Public Health to provide a local headquarters building for the public health nurses and sanitarians who serve this area. Sanitation services available at the new building include receiving applications for public health permits, issuing septic tank and cesspool permits, processing percolation tests and processing requests for sanitary surveys of foster homes and homes for the aged.

Starting this week a number of clinics will be regularly scheduled at the East San Diego Health Center. Child Health Conferences will be held on the first, third and fifth Monday of the month from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The purpose of Child Health Conferences is to counsel parents on child health, Dr. Askew said. He added that the Department of Public Health urges parents to consult their family physician on problems their children may have in growth, development and behavior. Only well children are seen at Child Health Conferences. Children who are ill are referred to their family physician.

Infants and preschool children at the Child Health Conferences are seen by appointment only, Dr. Askew said. Appointments may be made by calling the center.

Immunizations will be available at the East San Diego Health Center, Dr. Askew said, for adults who need them for foreign travel and for children to protect them against tetanus, smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough. The hours for immunization will be 1 to 3:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Monday.

munization will be 1 to 3:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Monday.

"The best protection for the health of children as well as adults," Dr. Askew said, "lies in more than immunization. Every person of every age should be under the regular care of a physician."

Prenatal conferences will be held on every Wednesday of the month from 8 to 10 a.m.

In addition to these public health services, Dr. Askew said the staff at the East San Diego Health Center answers telephone inquiries, processes complaints, receives and acts on reports of communicable disease and distributes health education materials.

"The purpose of the health center in East San Diego," Dr. Askew said, "is to provide this area of the county with those preventive services which safeguard the public health of the community. The health center does not offer medical care and treatment, which are not the function of the San Diego Department of Public Health."

Formal dedication of the building will probably take place in April after the staff has moved in and become settled and after the building is fully equipped.

Permission Granted For Smaller Yard

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Donald O. Gibbs has been granted permission to build 41 and a half feet from the center line of Mac lane, Spring Valley, by the County Planning Commission session. The zoning ordinance requires a 50-foot front yard. Gibbs also won a variance for a rear yard, to be 20 feet deep, instead of the required 25 feet.

Trampoline Center Use Permit OK'd In Casa de Oro

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A special use permit for a trampoline operation in Casa de Oro has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors, despite the opposition of other property owners in the area.

Applicant for the permit was P. J. Fazio, for a site at the northeast corner of Cordoba avenue and Dolores street. He said he planned the installation of 10 trampolines.

Charles H. Brunkow protested the County Planning Commission's approval of the permit. He said the operation would cause noise, traffic hazards and property depreciation in the area.

A similar protest was entered by Ruby Williams. The permit has also been opposed by other property owners at the planning commission hearing.

Fazio said his operation would be a help to combat juvenile delinquency in the area. He told supervisors he had picked Casa de Oro for his enterprise because of its vandalism record and said a child who lives in the area told him that "half the boys are on probation."

Supervisors made no comment on the charges of juvenile delinquency, but they accepted the recommendation of the planning commission and voted the permit, with the provision that the lotus speaker on the premises not be used after 10 p.m.

exercise thereof, or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble . . .

Thus, we see the canopy under which fifth purveyors may protect themselves. This is the section guaranteeing freedom of the press.

Lawmakers want earnestly to stamp out smut but they want to do it without abridging freedom of the press. An example is the post office department's drive to spotlight those who mail such material. They ask postal patrons to turn in any such material to their postmaster.

The post office department also suggests a definition of pornography. They define it as anything creating desire. If this were to become the legal definition there'd be nothing but confusion because no two judges could possibly agree on the point at which desire commences.

Within the past few weeks several happenings have added proof that the control of pornography is complex.

Item: Montreal — Police officials seized copies of Time Magazine for Jan. 11 on the ground that a semi-nude on the cover was pornographic. The theme of the cover was the world's population explosion.

Item: Washington — The American Civil Liberties Union and the American Book Publishers Council joined in opposing a bill to give the Post Office Department more authority to crack down on pornography.

Item: Washington — The Department of Justice informed the Jewish Labor Committee that publications advocating racial and religious hatred and discrimination "generally fall within the protection of the First Amendment to the Constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech and the press." The charge was that a man in Arlington, Va., had been using a swastika as a political symbol.

Item: Sacramento — Assemblyman Louis Francis said that Gov. Brown had rejected his request to put pornography on the special session call. Francis is author of a bill designed to curb sales of obscene literature. He charged the governor with "letting down millions of women parents, church and civic leaders who are up in arms over this $500-million-dollar racket."

These are small samplings of the week-by-week attack on the fifth problem. All of us want it out of our way of life but we want to do it within the framework of the law of our land.

One of the best ways we know to break up the pornography racket is to keep the spotlight of publicity on it. Even hardened criminals find it impossible to do business under such circumstances.

The legitimate press rises to the opportunity to bring attention to the conceivers of obscenity, and because of this, the racket is not as lucrative as it once was.

Controversy has raged around the use of fluorides in our drinking water for the reduction of decay in the teeth of youngsters, and voters rejected the proposition in San Diego a couple of years ago. It is not used in the water supplied by the Helix water works.

Yet, scientists continue to insist that fluoridation of water is not harmful. Contrary-wise, they have studies showing fluoridation can prevent up to 65 per cent of the tooth decay that would normally occur in children, and so far, no one has been able to offer proof of any harm.

According to Dr. J. B. Askew, San Diego County Director of Public Health, fluoridation of city water in the nation is on the increase. Today, 41 million Americans draw fluoridated water from their taps. That is eight million more than in 1950. More than 60 percent of our cities with a population of more than a half million are fluoridated. In the 10,000-500,000 population sizes, 32 per cent treat their water with fluorides. The percentages drop sharply in the smaller towns, he says.

In San Diego County, 80 per cent of the youngsters with primary teeth have some decay. The average high school graduate has 10 permanent teeth that are decayed, missing, filled or indicated for extraction.

In all, about 97 million persons in the U.S. have decayed teeth requiring treatment. If all of these persons sought care, according to Dr. Askew, there would not be enough dentists in the nation to handle the immense repair.

Judge Garfield Files Bid for Superior Court

strong, Hervey's brother-in-law. Armstrong practices in San Diego.

Garfield also fought successfully for more court facilities and judicial personnel in El Cajon and presently serves as senior judge in a district which has gained respect for its efficiency and smooth operation.

Judge Garfield said he was impelled to run against Hervey because of "professional considerations." These considerations were partly based on "judicial philosophy," he said.

"I explicitly believe that a judge should follow the existing law of the state, the nation and the Constitution. He should abide by the law of the legislature and that set forth by higher courts," Judge Garfield said.

"I firmly believe every judge has a duty to follow these laws whether he agrees with them or not. Certainly, no trial judge should attempt to change them." "I am not making this filing statement in criticism of Judge Hervey as much as to show that there can be a wide variance in the philosophy of the administration of justice. Every good attorney recognizes this fact," Judge Garfield said.

I have no comment to make regarding Judge Hervey's philosophy," he said.

"Part of my philosophy is that criminal law should be firmly administered and criminals should be punished as a crime deterrent.

"Courtroom conduct should be dignified and lawyers and witnesses should be treated with courtesy," he said.

Judge Garfield said that he made up his mind to run for Superior Court bench "at the last minute" after many friends and professional acquaintances had urged him to do so.

"I sincerely hope that any difference between Judge Hervey's philosophy and mine, if there is any, can be brought out before the election so that voters can make a choice," Judge Garfield said.

The election will be June 7.

GOODWILL GESTURE — Lemon Grove Department Store this week was offering to accept "any old clothes" as trade-in on new clothes, and was to donate the old clothing to the Goodwill Industries. Michael Manley shared first place with "Economic Production of Sulfuric Acid"; and Richard Irwin took third place with "Crystallization of NaCl."

Mount Miguel also will send six other students to the Greater Science Fair in San Diego in April: Elise Burdick, Warren Carnie, Robert Engberg, Ronal Jameson, Pat Schnell, Steve Cafferata and Dave Whitman.

Steve Conrad, Don Quist, William Rea and Russell Elmore. Teachers of all winners are William Carden, head of the science department, Frank Ramsey and Clifford Phillips.

Judges for the Mt. Miguel fair were Gerhard Wolter, San Diego State College, physics department; George Oliver, Conair Astronautics; in the life sciences Dr. John Penery, Inter-American Education Council; Dr. Gallup, San Diego State College; and Dr. Ratty, San Diego State College.

Trophies were donated to the school and presented to the winners by the Mount Miguel Boosters' Club.

Twelve students in the Greater Science Fair to be held in San Diego from April 2-11 is the largest number ever to come from one school, according to Carden.

When questioned later about the objectives of the course which he himself set up and believes to be the only one of its kind in the U.S., Carden answered that it provides the students with practice in research on their own. In addition, it has provided impetus to those who intend to make some phase of science their career.

Generally speaking, the science fair is a collection of exhibits which can be fitted into the broad concept of pure or applied science. The fair was open to any student or group of students numbering four or less who are enrolled at Mount Miguel.

Novotny was a carpenter for a swimming pool construction firm. He had lived in the county 20 years and was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the National Order of Foresters. There are no local survivors although he has three brothers and five sister living elsewhere.

The Kiwanis will use proceeds from the Festival to pay for uniforms for the junior high school band. Dr. Thayer Crow, club president, says the affair should net more than $1,000.

Serving hours will be 4 to 8 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. Menu consists of pancakes (all you can eat), ham or bacon, syrup, coffee or milk. Aunt Jimima is providing the pancake flour without charge.

UNITED FUND — Warner Hot Springs was the scene of a successful two-day conference recently when 100 volunteers laid the groundwork for a countywide United Fund drive this fall. Discussing plans for single campaign for nearly 100 community agencies are Ernest J. Billman of San Diego, general campaign chairman, and Byron L. Netzel, 2324 Golden Lane, Lemon Grove. Conference was sponsored by 30 business firms and labor organizations at no expense to the United Fund. All nine Community Chests in county and their agencies, plus Red Cross and numerous other organizations, receive operating support through United Fund's one annual drive.

Scout News

San Diego County Council (Boy Scouts of America) rates highest among the 25 largest Scout Councils in the nation in reaching and holding boy membership, according to the annual index recently released by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In the index, the local council rates first, second or third in 12 of the 20 items used for comparison. An aggregate rating of the items put the San Diego council 5 percent ahead of the next highest council.

The San Diego council is rated first in new Cub Scout packs per 100 available boys and in total available boys per executive. Its lowest ratings net 15th in separated Explorers and 13th in net dropped Explorers units.

Among the 25 large Councils, the San Diego Council also was first in percentage growth with 8 percent and second in numerical growth with 1609. Council president S. E. McCarty said the high rating is a tribute to unit leaders and committeemen.

Our apologies to a young lady in Girl Scout Troop 330 from Lemon Grove.

Last week we ran a picture of the troop after the girls racked up the astounding figure of 1,450 boxes of cookies sold.

And in identifying the young ladies, we missed Susan Brouillette, who was standing in the rear row, next to Mrs. Forrest de Fraite, co-leader. Sorry, Susan.

"Fifty Years of Scouting" has been selected as the theme of the 1960 Golden Jubilee Scout Fair in San Diego, according to John Bate, Scout Fair chairman for this year. He said the theme was selected after careful study by the Scout Fair Committee. Bate is director of the Port of San Diego.

The 1960 Scout Fair, probably will be held in Aztec Bowl State College. It is scheduled for June 4. Sign up for participation in the Fair will begin as soon as reservation cards are available, Bate said.

Girl Scout Week has been celebrated this week (March 12). The first troop in the United States was started by Juliette Lewis on March 5, 1912.

In San Diego County many activities were planned for the week. Many of the girls attended church in uniform. Monday was Homemaking Day and girls had the opportunity of taking over mother's work of preparing and serving dinner.

Tuesday was Citizenship Day and was set aside as the day to visit public buildings and to prepare reports on the visits. Wednesday was Health and Safety Day, a day for girls to check their homes and grounds for unsafe factors.

Thursday is International Friendship Day, that the girls might compose letters to pen pals, perhaps many to be read in foreign lands. Or a girl might prepare some foreign dish from some cookbook.

Friday is Arts and Crafts Day and affords an opportunity to troops to visit art centers and museums.

Saturday will be Out of Doors Day, when girls and leaders may pack a lunch and "head for the hills" or perhaps a nearby picnic ground.

Girl Scouts and leaders will soon be making plans for their Golden Jubilee, to be celebrated March 12, 1962. Another obserance will be Oct. 31, 1960, the day of the 100th anniversary of the birthday of Juliette Lewis.

Several Girl Scout troops have been formed and one more is being formed in the Spring Valley Estates area. These come under the jurisdiction of District 10, San Diego Council of Girl Scouts and Spring Valley Neighborhood. There are two second grade troops; one third grade troop; one fourth grade troop and one more being organized; one fifth grade troop; and one sixth grade troop.

The Avondale Elementary School is backing the troops and the troops may meet in the school if necessary. There are plenty of girls for the troops, but there is a lack of adult leaders. Mrs. Mary Hass, chairman of the Spring Valley Neighborhood, says that anyone interested in working with the girls in camping, music, citizenship, homemaking and other activities, is invited to become a leader of one of these troops. A woman does not necessarily have to be a mother of a Girl Scout to become a leader, Mrs. Hass says. A father may become a co-leader, Mrs. Hass says.

A senior Girl Scout program is under way in the Valley at the present time. This takes in girls who are in four years of high school. Leader of this group is Mrs. Maye Dutelle. These girls have such activities as hospital work, first aid, ranger aides, civic and community work and folk dancing, all under strict supervision. Senior girls or parents who are interested in getting into a troop may call Mrs. Dutelle at HO 6-4470. Mrs. Hass' number is HO 6-0771.

$200 Scholarships Open For Students Of Italian Descent

An invitation to local high school students who are wholly or partly of Italian ancestry to compete for one of 16 or more college entrance scholarships of $200 each was issued this week by the Grand Lodge of California, Order of Sons of Italy in America. Application blanks may be obtained by writing the scholarship committee of the lodge at 5051 Mission St., San Francisco 12, and must be returned to the committee by April 1.

The scholarships are open to qualified students who will graduate this year from any public or private high school in California, Nevada, Klamath County, Oregon, or Denver County, Colorado. Awards will be made on the basis of financial need, scholastic record, activities in high school showing leadership and character, and personal statements. Faculty recommendations must accompany each application.

Purpose of the scholarship is to encourage students of Italian ancestry to obtain education, which will increase their usefulness as American citizens, according to Attilio Raeta, San Francisco, president of the Grand Lodge of California. This is the fifth year of the competition. In the past four years a total of 46 awards of $200 each has been made to students who are now attending Stanford University, the University of California, UCLA and other colleges.

Zone Variances Win, Lose Before County Planners

requests for zoning variances in the Lemon Grove area came up for action before the County Planning Commission, and two of the applications were approved.

The third variance, asked by Ford H. Bunch, for permission for a 43 and a third-foot yard, instead of the required 50 feet, and reductions for depths of both side yards and the rear yard, was withdrawn. The sites affected are on Waite drive.

The two variances approved were those of Verner H. Williams, for reduction of side yard at 8862 Gold drive, and Broadway Development Co., for a front yard reduction on the south side of Lemon avenue, west of Buena Vista avenue.

Girl Scouts Present 'Thanks Badge' Award

Mrs. Elizabeth McCormick, 2349 Bonita, Lemon Grove, was presented a "Thanks Badge" Saturday morning at a District 10 "Salute to Girl Scout Week" program at Lemon Grove junior high school.

The badge is one of the highest adult awards in Girl Scout work and is confined to those who have served their community for at least five years. The award must be approved by the executive committee of the Girl Scout board of directors.

Mrs. McCormick has served in Girl Scouting since 1950, starting as a committee member. She has been an assistant leader, intermediate leader, day camp unit leader, site chairman for the Monterey Heights and Lemon Grove neighborhoods, day camp director and trainer, on the camp site committee for the council, Brownie consultant, troop organizer, delegate to the council convention, and currently is volunteer trainer for the San Diego council.

The award was presented by Mrs. Elton Loveland.

Girl Scout Wins Jewish Valor Award

A seventh grade girl, granddaughter of Harry Elkin, Lemon Grove tailor, last weekend received the first religious award for girls of the Jewish faith in the history of the San Diego Girl Scout council.

Ann Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Robbins of San Diego, was presented the award by Rabbi Monroe Levins at Tifereth Israel synagogue.

Miss Robbins won the Women of Valor award, presented only after 100 hours of service and attendance at the synagogue, and study of the history of the Jewish people and of various fields open to young women of this faith.

She is in her fourth year of Hebrew school, attending two days a week, and has received the Leo Brett award for excellence in scholarship and attendance for two years. For the past five months she has been preparing for her Bas Mitzvah on March 25.

She is a member of Troop 912.

Church Women To Hear Lecturer

The women's fellowship of the Lemon Grove Congregational Church will present Miss Ione Catton as speaker at the monthly program meeting at 11 a.m. March 16, in the church sanctuary.

Miss Catton will discuss "The church woman and the church's mission." She is said to have had a distinguished career as lecturer, author and church leader. Miss Catton is a former national program secretary for missionary education and secretary to the missions council. She recently returned from a special assignment with the churches of the Hawaiian conference.

A covered dish luncheon and business meeting will follow the address.

Young Beauties Invited to Vie For Fair Title

EL CAJON — Lemon Grove and Spring Valley beauties are invited to vie for the title of Queen of the Eastern San Diego County Fair. According to Garland Gaines, queen chairman, application forms are available at the El Cajon Junior Chamber of Commerce office, 190 Julian St.

Applicants must be single, between the ages of 17 and 22, and bona fide residents of East County. All applications must be filed before March 30. The queen will be selected at the Fair during opening day ceremonies, on May 25.

In addition to the title, Queen of the Fair, the winner will receive a $200 wardrobe, a full scholarship to the Frank Seeley School of Radio and Television, an escorted trip to Hollywood, and a modelling course. The two runners-up will receive $100 wardrobes.

The Eastern San Diego County Fair Queen contest has been a stepping stone to exciting new careers for past contestants. The 1959 Queen, Diana Haggin, had never entered a beauty contest before, but as a result of her reign at the fair, she was asked to try her hand at television. She is currently in Hollywood, and has recently appeared in "Peter Gunn" and "Mr. Lucky" episodes. She will soon be seen in a new series, "The Outlaw."

Two other candidates for last year's title, Roxanne Carlson and Jan Glaze, made such an impression on the judges that they were offered jobs as stewardesses for PSA.

"Being in the Queen contest," stated Gaines, "is a lot of fun and it can open bright new horizons for the contestants."

"Satisfaction Is The Most Important Thing We Sell"

Things of Spirit Said Substantial

Paul's statement in Hebrews (11:3) "... things which are seen were not made of things which do appear," is included in the explanation of the difference between the apparent and the real, which is expounded in the lesson-sermon on "Substance" at each Christian Science service on Sunday. The leading Bible citation of the sermon is taken from the Gospel of John, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God... All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made" (1:1, 3).

LET US ALL PRAY TOGETHER AS A FAMILY

"Spiritual growth demands that each person be careful how he builds upon his foundation. We need to grow and mature in every way and in all things in our life. Jesus said, 'I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.'"

At a special meeting last Sunday night, the church steering committee decided to purchase a parcel of land 62½ feet by 160 feet, just west of the church. The land will be used for expansion of the church and the committee is now making plans for construction.

FAITH

Faith is assurance. One of the happiest moments in a person's life is when he comes to the place where he can say, "Now I know." To know that you are right with God is to have assurance that you are His child. This is worth more than all the wealth in the world.

Fire Commissioners Turn Down $100,000 Bond Election

Commissioners of the L.G. Fire Department ruled against a bond issue for $100,000.00 at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

According to R. Vaught, commission secretary, it would cost taxpayers $90,000 to float a loan over a 20 year period. The rest of the commission agreed, and decided instead to appropriate the funds in partial amounts over the next few years. The money will be used to purchase another heavy-duty piece of equipment and complete the master plan of improvements of the station on Central ave.

The commission indicated it would appropriate $25,000 to be held in reserve until more appropriations made the fund large enough to complete the station. $10,000 probably will be appropriated for equipment on the same basis. Another $10,000 is scheduled to go into the budget for additional personnel, Vaught said.

He said the Fire District could maintain its present rating by averting a bond issue. Increased assessed valuation probably will make a rate increase unnecessary. Additionally, he said, taxpayers will save $90,000 it would cost under the bond arrangement.

Courtesy Awards To Be Given

Five trophies have been ordered for presentation to Lemon Grove's "most courteous" people. It was announced this week by Rolla Hamilton, president of the L.G. Rotary Club.

He said the trophies would be presented at a regular meeting following Courtesy Week to be held here March 21 through April 2.

Lemon Grove schools, the Rotary Annex, and the California Highway Patrol will assist in choosing the winners.

A trophy will be given to the most courteous salesperson; the employer of the salesperson, and the most courteous driver. CHP officers will make the latter selection.

Additionally, there will be two trophies, one each to the junior high school student in grades 7 and 8 who produces the most acceptable poster on "courtesy."

Square Dance News

The Huff 'N' Puffers Square Dance Club, meeting in the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce hall, are planning a St. Patrick's Day dance for March 18. A ham potluck supper is planned before the dance.

Frank Dyson was club caller at the March 4 dance. Hosts and hostesses were Larry and Mary Archer and Art and Mildred Canfil. Guests were Pop and Helen Worden (Heartland Couple of the Month), Coye and June Dunn, Kay and Quince Smith, Hank and Anita Cordeza, Toni and Dick Brownfield and Earl Bullock.

Frontier Squares hosted the Dancing Dancers and Square Knots on the fourth Saturday party night for February. Decorations were carried out for the theme "Wild West Stampede." The calling of "Wild Bill Keller" was terrific, making the dance a great success.

The club has been busy of late visiting the following clubs: Dudes and Dolls, Thunderbirds, Gingham Garters and Levi and Laces. Final plans have been completed for the seventh President's Dance March 26 at the National City Armory. Reservations may be made by calling HO 3-5233.

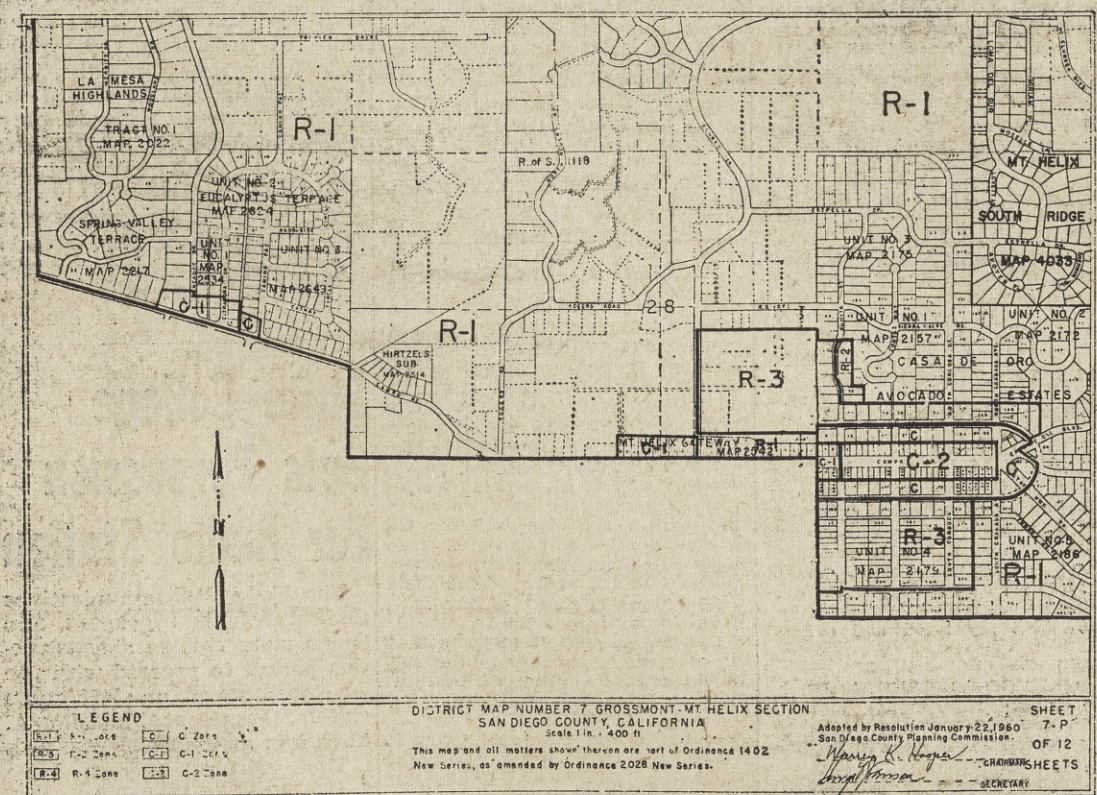

Country Cousins' regular Saturday dance last weekend was a real workout in new dance routines. Among the guests were "Pop" and Helen Worden of the Rhythm Rounders, the present Couple of the Month.

Next Saturday's dance will feature the calling of Dale Durbin, who will be pinch hitting for the club's own Ray Columbe. On Monday, March 14, the club will have a special party dance in honor of the Seven Square class taught by Columbe and scheduled to graduate next month.

Five Story Building Opened at College

San Diego State's cliff-hanging, giant Chemistry-Geology Building now is in full scale operation.

The five-story, $3 1/2 million structure overlooks Mission Valley from the northeast perimeter of the campus. With 110,000 square feet of floor space, it is second in size only to the newly completed men's and women's dormitories.

Construction on the building began in June, 1958, and ended in December, 1959. Classes started to move in with the opening of the Spring Semester, February 8, but it was not until now that activities got under way in all of the building's 26 new laboratories.

The chemistry department, headed by Dr. Robert W. Isensee, and the geology department, headed by professor Baylor Brooks, share the building.

Approximately 900 students are currently enrolled in chemistry courses. Of these about 250 are working toward the bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree. Forty students are working toward master's degrees in the field.

In geology, 500 are taking courses and 80 working toward either the bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree.

Previously the two departments had occupied quarters in the Life Science Building and in a series of temporary structures in the center of the campus. The new building provides roughly five times as much working space under vastly improved conditions, according to Isensee.

Rainfall Study To Help Plan School Buildings

An 11-year rainfall study completed recently is being used to help develop specifications for school buildings, officials of the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district said this week.

The study, prepared by Richard H. Manzella, coordinator of publications, revealed that during the 11 years studied it rained some time during the day on an average of 22 school days a year.

That information was refined in an eight-year period during which time records were kept. During that period, Manzella said, it rained an average of 8 1/2 days during the hours that school actually was in session.

"This being so, the very real question is raised whether or not it is economical to build covered walkways at our schools," Manzella said. "Therefor, in my opinion, the evidence seems to justify experiment with uncovered walkways."

Money saved, and "floor space" saved, could be applied toward the building of more classrooms, Manzella pointed out. Under building definitions used by State of California officials, space under shelter—covered walkways included—is counted toward the square footage allowed in a school plant. The smaller the area included as covered walkways, the more area would be available elsewhere.

Other information compiled by Manzella over the 11-year period showed that in rained an average of 40 days each calendar year. The wettest year in the study was 1952 when there were 60 days with some rainfall during school months. The year 1956 had but 22 such days. Periods covered by the study were 1946 through 1956.

It is the practice of the schools to maintain "rainy day schedules" on days when it rains and when playgrounds may not be used because of wet conditions. These also have a bearing on the rainfall study.

State College Gets Permission For Radio Station

The Federal Communications Commission has granted San Diego state college a construction permit to proceed with the development of an FM radio station, President Malcolm A. Love has announced.

The granting means, Love said, that San Diego state college is clear to assemble and erect all equipment necessary for the operation of a broadcast station. Application for a license will be made later in the spring.

The programs to be broadcast will be of an educational nature, Love said. The station will be non-commercial. Initial plans call for a four-hour broadcasting day.

The station will operate on 89.5 megacycles, Love said. Its call letters have not yet been determined.

The station will be run as part of the educational program of the broadcast section of the speech arts department.

Public Schools Week Set in Spring Valley

Preliminary plans for the observance of Public Schools Week, April 24 to May 1, have been announced in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District by individual school principals and district administrators. Activities will be keyed by the 1960 Community Conference on Education April 23 at Spring Valley junior high school under the chairmanship of Jack Root, executive with the IBM Corporation. Theme of the conference, to be opened with a noon luncheon, will be "Education Enters the 60's," Root said. The event will be sponsored by the district's Citizen Advisory Council. Another CAC event of the week will be the regular monthly meeting April 26, 7:30 p.m., in the Bancroft elementary school multipurpose room. Superintendent Glenn E. Murdock and associate superintendent M. Ted Dixon will give a "School District Financial Report," CAC President Mel Anderson said. "Plans of the individual schools in Spring Valley to observe Public School Week also were announced: Avondale, open house, time and day to be announced; Bancroft, open house 7-9 p.m. April 26; Casa de Oro, open house 7:30-9 p.m. April 27; Spring Valley elementary, open house 7-9 p.m. April 28. Spring Valley Junior High has scheduled open house April 28 in observance of Public School Week. Principal Keith Dolan said that parents and sixth grade pupils of elementary schools in the district would be invited to become acquainted with the school. An art show is planned as well as a music program and the junior high school band.

Civic Center Addition Under Consideration

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Construction of another floor on the existing Civic Center will be cheaper than adding a wing to the structure, the County Board of Supervisors decided at a special meeting last week, and the Board voted to ask for a meeting with city officials to win their approval for the plan. The City of San Diego and the county share quarters in Civic Center, and Supervisors were told Monday that the city wants to increase the percentage of space it uses in the building. T. M. Heggland, chief administrative officer for the county, told the Board that the county's space needs in Civic Center are critical. He said the county is using about 58 per cent of the building, and the city 42 per cent,
